Amery Public Library

We March to Our Own Beat, a traveling exhibit provided by the Wisconsin Historical Society Located in the main level lounge through August 7th.

There's nothing that brings Wisconsinites together more than a little friendly competition. Whether it's the Green Bay Packers, a university team, or one of our many high school teams, we love to be part of a cheering crowd. But how do we maintain our morale when a game isn't going our way? Luckily for us, Wisconsin's marching bands buoy our spirits, delight us with their entertaining performances, and inspire our teams to compete at the highest level. Learn more about the bands that play our favorite tunes and their history with spectator sports.
